

A CLEVER FORGER BROUGHT TO TASK.
WE HAS A LETTER FROM CARDINAL GIBBONS AND WROTE SOME TO CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW
AND JOHN JACOB ASTOR.

The identity of the clever forger who has been victimizing brewers and clothing dealers in Jersey City, Brooklyn, Staten Island and this city for some months was discovered yesterday by Detectives Motz and Price, of the One-hundred-and-twenty-sixth station. He was found to be Eugene G. L. Koch, a native of Wiesloch, Baden, Germany. The forger is a graduate of Heidelberg and speaks German, English, Spanish and Italian fluently. For months Inspector Byrnes' men and ward detectives from various precincts have been on the lookout for the forger. He was finally caught on Saturday night in the Hartman and Westerholz clothing house at Third Ave. and One-hundred-and-twenty-fifth-st., where he attempted to pass a bogus check for $15, in payment for a pair of trousers. When taken into custody he gave his name as Eugene Miller, and said that he came from St. Louis. He carried a grip, of which he had lost the key. This did not interfere with the detectives, who picked the lock and they soon made out of the contents. The grip was filled with letters, papers, bogus recommendations and a half dozen forged checks, which were all ready for use. One of the letters was written by Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, on June 15, 1890, to John Phillips, which is said to be another of Koch's aliases.

The asylums were represented as follows: Buffalo, Dr. J. B. Andrews, superintendent; and C. G. Curtis, trustee; Ringhampton, Dr. T. S. Armstrong, superintendent; Edmund O'Connor, trustee; Willard, Dr. C. W. Eligman, superintendent; S. H. Hammond, trustee; Rochester, Dr. E. H. Howard, superintendent; Fredrick Cook, trustee; St. Lawrence, Dr. P. M. Wise, superintendent; George S. Weaver, trustee; Ulster, Dr. G. Alder Blumer, superintendent; George E.
